

MRS. LYDIA CODMAN

Washington, March 27—Demovations being made for an investigation of sugar price fluctuations "are not a threat," said Sen. Edward Brooke today. "I am confident that Hoover said today, adding that such an inquiry had been instituted by the government on March 4.

Brooke said that he was convinced there was no economic justification for high prices of raw sugar. He said that the Federal Reserve and other government departments were investigating conditions in the market and that a bill passed by Congress authorizing inquiry into combinations of foreign sugar producers would be introduced.

International News Service.—An appeal to the public to join in a nationwide effort to reduce sugar consumption was made by Representative Dallinger of Massachusetts.

Brooke said the daily consumption of sugar, stop hoarding, break the sugar prices and crush the sugar trust. He said that the sugar trust was a powerful force, but that it was not an effective means to curb the ascending price of sugar.

The President's Speech
Francis Climbs—But
Two Dead Butterflies
Voltaire's Bad Servants
By Arthur Brisbane

M. DAUGHERTY announces that Mr. Harding's next campaign will be managed on the same lines as the last. That's good news, for the last campaign was run on a "no mix up with Europe basis," and was quite a success, winning with 7,000,000 votes to spare.

M. HARDING is "thinking up" his speeches soon to be made throughout the country. A humble journalist would recommend this opening:

"Fellow Citizens—I promised to keep you out of the league. I have done it, and I'm still against that democratic European propaganda nonsense. We have half of the gold, and about all the sound credit in the world. Europe does not like us, naturally, for she is our debtor. But, she dare not quarrel with us. While we keep aloof she would like a partnership with us, the clearer the better. Re-elect me and I'll see to it that Uncle Sam takes in no bankrupt partners."

THE WORLD'S money markets believe that France is winning in the Ruhr. That is why France climbed to 4.95 yesterday, dragging Belgian and Italian money up with them.

BUT FRANCE is borrowing fifteen thousand million francs, three times the sum Bismarck took from her. With all respect for bankers that deal in bonds, and sell them at a profit, the public should be cautious about buying foreign bonds for a while.

How much would any bank lend a business concern if the concerns were running behind billions a year, in its overhyped excesses?

NEW YORK city reports "another Broadway butterfly dead. A wild drinking party, at which large quantities of liquor were consumed, and the women guests submitted to rough handling." That's the brief police statement.

The "whiskey, without a cross word in a barrel of it," seems lacking at modern parties. Mr. Beckwith, unfortunate victim of the latest "jollification" under prohibition, died in the hospital, his body badly bruised and injured internally.

THE OTHER "butterfly," Dorothy Keman, was chloroformed, the police say, by a cheap crook, who got not only money for himself, but gay billiards for his gal. The crook took the girl's dress, hat and gray squirrel fur coat. Somewhere the killer, and his "butterfly" are travelling with that clothing. No need to go to Albany to see the jungle, or its beasts.

MAGISTRATE WILL sent Mike Eldid to jail for ten days and out of his own pocket paid the Eldid family the amount Eldid would have earned, had he not been there. That's justice and charity combined.

Voltaire, learning that some of his servants had robbed him, warned them to flee and sent the money for expenses because, as he said: "If they are accused, I shall not have influence enough to save them from being hanged."

They hanged men for petty theft in those days. The French Revolution stopped that. In France and elsewhere, and Voltaire, more than any other man, and to his eternal glory, made that revolution.

PHILIP SNOWDEN, Labor and Communist member of Great Britain's House of Commons, wants to change everything, eliminating the capitalist system, because, says he, 88 per cent of Britain's wealth is owned by 2 per cent of Britain's population.

Capitalists will wonder how the 97 1/2 per cent manage to get the other 13 per cent of the wealth. They will remind Mr. Snowden that less than 5 per cent of his total bodily weight weighs 100 per cent of his intelligence.

THE ENGLISH are wise in this. They are willing to listen. The British Parliament pays close and patient attention to a debate advocating a Socialist form of government for Great Britain, denouncing the capitalist form of government as a failure, etc., imagine that in the United States Congress.

THERE WILL not be any Socialist government in England for a long time. The English avoid trouble, not by locking up those that say what they think, but by listening to what they have to say and starveling.

Her sister a Broadway stage favorite, says Stella had a "matinee crush" on Lou Tellegen, and laughs at anything beyond that. Stella herself may take the stand in the Farrar divorce case and deny "petting parties" with Lou.

GIRL TO DENY SPOONING WITH TELLEGEN

New York, March 22.—Final hearing in the divorce action brought by Geraldine Farrar against Lou Tellegen was to be held today, but Arthur E. Schwartz, Tellegen's attorney, said he would make no further part in the case unless his client revoked or modified orders he has given.

Miss Stella Larimore, whose name has been mentioned in connection with Tellegen and whose sister Drive Park bench, may take the stand to make formal denial of this testimony.

STEEL DIES AS PROBE OPENS

Before the enterprise had advanced beyond the blue print stage. The first sign of distress so far as the public knew came in January when it was announced that Steel had surrendered the presidency of the Parent and several subsidiary corporations. It was said at that time that he was broken in health and was retiring virtually without a dollar except his large investment in L. R. Stool.

A board of control was placed in charge and it was stated that a number of promotions would be dropped and that growing concerns would be placed on a sound financial basis.

The board of control found itself in financial difficulties within a few weeks and on March 8 Federal Judge John R. Hazel appointed receivers.

The L. R. Stool Company, listed as declared insolvent, was said to have headquarters in Buffalo and two offices in Boston. It is the parent organization of fourteen subsidiaries. It dealt to large extent in the stock of the Charles Veeghman Corporation chain of luncheonettes, which has two luncheonettes in Boston.

Steamship "Ghost" FORD WILL BUILD MODEL ROAD ALONG RAILWAY

(Copyright, 1923, by International News Service)
Detroit, Mich., March 22.—Within twenty years industry will have grown to such vast proportions that "Big Business" of the day will be small in comparison, according to opinion expressed by Henry Ford in a review of conditions and a prophecy for the future.

Ford is an optimist. But he believes that investment in a concern merely for the sake of profits is "bad business."

Ford thinks that within five years or so most of the railways will be electrified. He explained that he is intended to construct a model railway paralleling the Toledo & Ann Arbor railroad, which he bought from the Erie and Ohio roads.

Outside capital, Ford declared, interferes with industrial progress. Henry paid out in dividends, he believes, should go back into the business to improve and expand it.

A manufacturer should run his business just as he runs his home, the famous motor car maker said.

"Industry, twenty years from now, will be a big business that takes materials in the raw and turns them into a finished product at a price the average customer can pay," said Ford. "There will be an elimination of the various profits of the middle-men. These profits cannot remain because they are unnatural profits. They are the profits of people who do not create. To be entitled to a profit a man must create or must serve some indispensable need in the process of production and distribution."

"There is a difference—a marked difference—between big business and a trust. The day is coming, I believe, when there will be no outside stockholders in a big business. A man invests money in a concern for the purpose of taking out profits and reinvesting those profits in something else. This is wrong. It is bad business."

German Chief Declares Paris Premier Has Blocked All Efforts for Peace

Berlin, March 22.—"I shall never beg France for negotiations for a Ruhr settlement," declared Chancellor Wilhelm Cuno of Germany today, in the first comprehensive interview he has granted since the French invaded the Ruhr in January.

He added:

"I shall make no new offer or proposal to France as long as the French hold the bayonet at Germany's throat and grind her brutal, military heel on the economic heart of our Fatherland, meanwhile trying to extort from us promises which we could never keep."

The steel blue eyes of the speaker flashed and his voice had a vibrating ring of convincing sincerity as, seat of the blue palace in the Reichstag, he gave this extensive interview to International News Service.

OFFICE POINCARE.

Leaving forward and accentuating each word with a vigorous nod of the head, Chancellor Cuno continued:

"What I promised will be fulfilled. Premier Poincare himself blocked all offers and negotiations when he said: 'I do not want to negotiate. I do not want to negotiate. I do not want to negotiate.'"

Woman Held As Victim In Murder

Mrs. Anna Buzzi, Housekeeper for Contractor, Charged With Murder

New York, March 22.—Mrs. Anna Buzzi, housekeeper for Frederick Schneider, wealthy Bronx contractor, who was slain February 28, was arrested today on a charge of homicide.

Schneider's body was found in his car in a lonely spot near Claussen's Point. A woman had been seen running from the scene of the tragedy shortly before the crime was discovered.

Mrs. Buzzi, a divorcee, had lived with Schneider for several years, following his separation from his wife.

Mrs. Buzzi was arrested as a material witness shortly after the murder and grilled by detectives. She was released following habeas corpus proceedings and investigators apparently dropped the case as an unsolved mystery.

CHILD DANCER TO APPEAR SATURDAY

Five-year-old Doris K. McAlduff, who is a toe dancer, will appear at Gordon's Capitol Theatre, 105 West 42nd street, Broadway, Saturday morning. She is a pupil of the Doris K. McAlduff School of Dancing.

Doris's relatives and friends are preparing to attend to witness her performance in public.

YOU JUNG LOSES LAUNDRY AND $267

Springfield, March 22.—You Jung was rescued from his burning laundry on No. 417 Main street today by Firemen Thomas Dunn, who smashed in the door. Jung was severely burned on head and face and lost $267 in bills he had banked under his pillow. The laundry of customers was lost in the fire, which swept through the place and through Dunn's Denovan's grocery next door. Total damage was estimated at $3,000. The fire started in the laundry from cause not known.

BRAKE TESTS TO AID POLICE

The State Highway Department has compiled statistics for the use of the police in determining the speed of motor vehicles which are reported to play a most important part in the prosecution of automobile cases this season.

This data was obtained after careful tests and shows the number of feet a machine will travel after the brakes have been applied. This first reliable record is an average substantially below seven-penny-gauge car with four persons on a level, dry stretch of concrete.

TRIED IN VAIN TO EXPLAIN TO POLICE

Flooding guilty to larceny of rail road tickets valued at $22.50 from a North Station ticket office, Mrs. Lillian Smith of No. 63 Clarendon street, South End, was placed on probation for six months.

Arthur Craig, night ticket seller, from whose booth the tickets were taken, was also arrested but later released. A policeman is said to have staunchly defended Mrs. Smith, refusing to divulge details of the affair, until she voluntarily entered her plea.

Describing herself as being well supported by her husband, now in Texas, Mrs. Smith asserted she was unaware of her actions when the alleged larceny occurred.

"Waiting for a train at 3 in the morning, I got talking with the ticket-man," Mrs. Smith said. "I was offered a drink, took it, and some fooling in the ticket booth followed."

"I do not remember grabbing a handful of tickets, but later found them in my coat pocket, and then I tried in vain to straighten things out."

My certainly did not take them to me in, Patrolman Earl Haley, on duty near the station, understood my predicament and tried to help me. Some special officers came and arrested me at my home, however, and on advice I admitted my guilt."

HARDINGS TO STAY IN ST. AUGUSTINE A WEEK

Cocoa, Fla., March 22.—Tentative plans for the remainder of President Harding's vacation trip contemplate a return to Washington between April 7 and 10. The vacation party today cruised on northward with the houseboat Pioneer. On arriving at St. Augustine, probably tomorrow evening, President and Mrs. Harding will take quarters at the Hotel Ponce de Leon for a week. The tentative plans, they provide that the party go to Augusta, Ga., for a stay of four or five days, after which they will return to Washington.

Society Girls to Aid Infants' Hospital Cabaret, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN

THINGS are shaping along very nicely for the cabaret taking place on April 3 in aid of the Infants' Hospital. To judge by advance reports, the Copley-Plaza will present a gay scene on this widely-heralded occasion.

Smiling Mrs. Richard Saltzman (Mary Rogers) has marshalled an attractive corps of girls to sell flowers and cigarettes, the group including the Misses Vera Howell, Margery Richardson, Frances Weiss, Nell White, Helen Scott, Ella Snelling, Laura Lyster and Edith Sartan.

There is an equally smart group of girls whom Miss Grace Sanford has asked to serve as waitresses, many of them debutantes of the season.

Mrs. George Swift of Commonwealth avenue is on the committee which is running the affair, for which a goodly number of tables have been taken already. Every sign of confere is anticipating the fashion show which stunning Lydia Codman is putting on that evening.

SPEAKING of France Weld—prominent among the girls of the past season—she has just returned from a trip to the South. On Wednesday evening her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Weld, gave a large bridge party more or less in her honor. Frances Weld, a small and dainty young person, was easily distinguished at the ball because this season because of her reddish-blond hair.

MR. AND MRS. EDWIN FAIRMAN GREENE are spending their home at No. 6 Chestnut street last Wednesday evening for a program of harp and organ music. The artists will be Miss Lucille Delcourt and Albert Snow, organist. Tickets may be had from Mrs. Anna Davis Chase at No. 230 Boylston street.

BONDAIRIED (Pilot Cabot) is probably one of the most popular dancers and skate artists of the younger set. She is continually winning fresh laurels, either on the ice or interpreting her own. The artist, however, she appeared last night while skating, so that for the nonce she is deprived of these two sports. At present Miss Cabot, who is the younger daughter of the T. Handard Cabots of Newbury street, is entertaining Miss Blake, a New York girl, who has recently returned from Rome.

A MONO hostess recently arriving in New York at the Hotel Lorraine are Mrs. James T. Jackson and Miss Kinney Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Webster and Mr. and Mrs. F. Murray Forbes.

MRS. D. ALEXANDER GARDNER, who recently joined the Boston colony at Hot Springs, was among those entertaining at her home the other afternoon during the concert.

Mrs. GEORGE SWIFT

Mrs. Swift of Commonwealth avenue is of the group in charge of the Infants' Hospital cabaret, which will draw a host of fashionable to the Copley-Plaza on April 3.

Daily Prune Recipe

Sunsweet Prune Charlotte Russe: Bake a sponge cake in a ring mold or round pan. If latter is used, hollow out center of cake when cold to form a ring. Cover cake with confectioner's icing. Prepare 2 cups of prune pulp [cooked, pitted Sunsweet Prunes, rubbed through a sieve]; add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped walnuts or pecans, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Whip 1 pint of cream and fold into mixture. Pile high in center of cake. Will serve ten to twelve persons. For a small cake use half of recipe.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON RADIO

From for a few contributors to this "Radio" column today.

C. M. Boston—The station here out of A. R. J. P. was WGV, formerly, it was the collection of the American League of Nations, and was carried on by telephone. I listened to it myself. Tell A. R. J. P. it was good for a report.

A. D. V. Bedford—On the night of March 12, about 9:30 p. m., on my first set I heard a faint sound of telephony and the music of the radio. I interrupted. I would be glad to hear from a brother far concerning the time and location of this station.

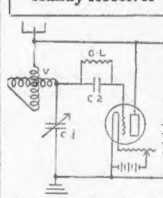

Send in your queries and replies to the Radio Editor, Boston American, and they will find a place in the "Radio" column.

Have "Opinions" on Vaccination?

Exchange Them for Facts
Copyright, 1922, Star Company

It is discovered that vaccination for smallpox is two thousand years old. Three hundred years before Christ, men in India and in China observed that those that once had the disease rarely got it again. So they began inoculating themselves with it, when they were strong and well, so as to have it under favorable conditions and get through with it.

Some facts, however, interest you more than what China used to do. Before vaccination, as we practice it, was understood, ONE THIRD OF ALL HUMAN BEINGS HAD SMALLPOX, and of all those that died TEN PER CENT. WERE KILLED BY SMALLPOX. Today smallpox amounts to nothing. Many doctors, with big practice, have never seen a case of it.

Where vaccination is properly practiced smallpox is unknown. Tell that to your friend who doubts the value of vaccination.

No Children—Stay Out

A French Idea

Copyright, 1922, Star Company

The French government has built houses, very comfortable, with fine apartment of four rooms and kitchen each, big enough to hold a family of ten, according to French ideas. These apartments can be rented for $60 a year, caretaking included. But no family with children can occupy the apartments, which are planned to accommodate ten children.

It's an ingenious bid for bigger families. But old nature is more ingenious and powerful than any house-building government. See rules population and its growth and is not easily controlled.

Some Humor Left

"Have a Few Ships," Says Europe

Copyright, 1922, Star Company

The allies are worried, discouraged, but still retain some sense of humor. Our government says: "Please pay us two hundred and fifty million dollars we spent keeping our soldiers marching up and down on the Rhine. You have been getting paid for YOUR Rhine soldiers, why can't WE be paid?"

The allies reply: "Collect your money from Germany," and suggest that Germany might pay part of the debt by giving us SHIPS. That is where the humor comes in.

This country has a gigantic fleet of steel ships born of wartime graft, rusting in the Hudson River now.

Nathan Straus once built a hotel and lost money on it. When someone suggested his buying another hotel, he replied with fervor: "If anybody offered me the finest hotel for nothing, I'd insult him."

That's how the United States feels about more ships.

One Idea a Day

This Is a Good One

Copyright, 1922, Star Company

Mussolini, Italian dictator, averages one idea a day, and his percentage of GOOD ideas is high. Now he has established "a land militia" to help farmers do their farming in the right way, productively, intensively, for the benefit of the nation. Also the militia will MAKE them do it if they are indifferent.

Improved farming, plus economical extraction of nitrogen from the air, would solve earth's problem for the present.

The State of Texas, intensively cultivated and fertilized, could support, feed and clothe all the sixteen hundred millions of people now living on the earth easily.

And if you imagine the earth is in danger of being over-crowded, remember that flying machines will find magnificent homes for all of us on unused hilltops and mountain tops.

Also remember that all the people now on the earth could stand together at one time on Staten Island, that little piece of land in the harbor of New York. It is OVERPOPULATION that threatens the world, but villainous race and religious hatred, plus avarice.

Should Drop Dr. Wilson

Dr. Dr. Lewis Wilson, librarian of the Clark University, seeking notoriety, has dropped from the shelves of the university the weekly publications called The Nation and the New Republic.

It makes little difference that the ablest writers and thinkers in the country are contributors to these two magazines. It makes little difference that they are among the greatest moulders of public opinion, among all American organs of opinion. It makes no difference that the most insignificant contributor to both these publications is more distinguished than Dr. Wilson. It makes no difference that this is America, a free republic, a democracy in which by our constitutional laws the censorship of the press is forbidden, in which the very fundamentals of our government require that all should have access to all kinds of opinions. Yet this insignificant person, known for the first time by his violation of primary rules of a democracy, undertakes to deprive the students of an educational institution of the right to learn both sides of important public questions. It is almost too ridiculous to be believed.

If it is true the governing authority of Clark University ought to drop this person at once and make him go out and earn a living with his hands. His intellectual equipment is not serviceable in the educational world.

WOMEN USE MONOCLE IN LONDON

LONDON, March 22.—The monocle, hitherto one of the hall marks of the fashionable man-about-town, is threatening to become the latest craze among Englishwomen.

Increasing numbers of fashionable women are to be seen toying with dainty tortoise-shell, gold and platinum-rimmed monocles suspended on black silk cords or rainbow-hued ribbon.

Spectacle makers report an increasing demand by women for the monocle, which is made to fit the eye with faultless precision, and that so far as the general public knows that situation hasn't changed. Will you please

Babe Ruth Case
Editor Boston American:
I write to you concerning the case of "Babe" Ruth. I do not believe "Babe" Ruth had anything to do with Dolores Dizon. I think it was only a fake and blackmail. He thinks a lot of his wife and child, and I respect Mrs. Ruth for upholding her husband. Any girl that stoops so low as to try to ruin a married man, she has, should be ashamed of herself and hide forever.
MRS. J. REILLY.

Religion in Republic

In your editorial of March 20 you claim that Thomas Jefferson made the statement that this Republic had no religion, and did not recognize one, officially, and that so far as the general public knows that situation hasn't changed. Will you please

WORDS FROM THE LIPS OF WISE MEN

HOPE is the yeast in the bread of life.

A forgiving temper seldom have much to be forgiven.

Every great man has enemies of whom he is proud.

Acquire no evil learning, but the habit of learning.

He who hastens too much often remains behind.

To keep on trying is the foundation of virtue.

To be proud of learning is the greatest ignorance.

Do not despise commonplace; most of them are true.

Editor Helping Hand:
Please send me the address of M. R. I have a parcel for the girl.
MRS. J. M.

Clothes for Country

Editor Helping Hand:
We are in the country and can wear things that people in the city can't. I have three little coats, two girls size six and six, and a boy size four. Anything that would fit them or could be made over would be gladly received. Also say men's clothing that my husband could wear about his work on our little farm

Offers Warm Dress

Editor Helping Hand:
I have a very good warm dress, size about 34 or 36, and would like to send it to Mrs. R. P. if you would send her the address. I have a black silk dress also, which she may have. If you will kindly send me the address of Mrs. J. P. D. I can send her a few articles of clothing to be made over. With I had more to give.
MRS. H. G.

Barbara Supplied

Editor Helping Hand:
I have some clothes that will fit twelve-year-old Barbara that I shall be glad to send parcel-post to her if you will kindly give me her address.

Would Make Mats

Editor Helping Hand:
I wonder if I can secure, through your column, some old rags for making mats? I am an elderly woman and a cripple, and I try to make a living through doing patchwork or making mats, so if any of the readers have any old things I could use up and make into mats or quilts I would appreciate some very much.

AMERICA FINANCES HER RIVALS FOR A TRADE WAR

By Herbert Kaufman

STENTOR himself sat at a telephone Tuesday and hailed the Aquitania en route to sea. A new megaphone attachment of incalculable possibilities now enables us to magnify the human voice twelve thousand times. Fable again meets a more astounding fact.

Here are some figures that need even a louder speaker. Other nations owe us the fabulous sum of $21,000,000,000. Besides advances to allied governments and their political wife, since 1914 we have made foreign loans aggregating eleven billions, and almost every penny of that gargantuan amount is still outstanding—interest included.

Part of the money defeated Germany. The rest of it is in the smithies of competition. Trade rivals are turning our own dollars into economic weapons with which to overwhelm the commerce of the United States.

A School for Franksteins

The British Labor party attend a school where experts teach its members how to avoid traps in parliamentary procedure.

If certain Federal administrators and many of our bankers could be induced to follow suit and learn to avoid the pitfalls in hasty and promiscuous foreign financing they might profit from the experience of Frankenstein and cease creating monstrous combinations to strangle local industries and hold business expansion at their jealous mercy.

Thus do we strengthen the world for a struggle that challenges the independence of America's last plough and wheel.

Fat, Foolish and Fatuous Columbia!

Our factories produce two-thirds of the rubber plantations of this earth and control no plantations. Without nitrate the South can't raise cotton and all but 3 per cent. of nitrate production is in alien hands. The oil fields of the continent won't last another generation and outside sources are in the inexorable grip of a British-Dutch monopoly, which hoards of power to exact arbitrary tribute when domestic wells run dry.

Mexican companies own all the aisel for farmers' binding twine, and before long a copra trust will make us pay through the nose for cosmetics, soap and vegetable oil bases. Meanwhile unrestored forests hasten the day of our dependence upon imported lumber and pulp woods. We waste natural resources, neglect conservation, permit unnational to fill their motor tanks and coal bins from dwindling stocks and expect to prosper. Fat, foolish and fatuous Columbia! Maudlin Samaritan and naive Lady Bountiful, use your head as well as your heart or prepare to yield your place!

"They're Aye Growin'! While You're Sleepin'!"

Wake up, America, and save the remnants of a withering estate. Regulate fisheries and restock streams. Halt the slaughter of wild birds and so check the trillion-mouthed hunger eating a billion-dollar annual hole in agriculture's pocket.

Look where you drop cigarettes and watch where you toss matches.

Never again skip a million tons of coal to a neighbor during a month when your own furnace bins are empty. Remember Mrs. Jellyby and don't neglect your family for the natives of Borrioboola Gha.

Replant the barrens before rain and flood sweep away the soil of still arable acres.

"Pop an acorn" into every available place to root and bind fertility. Take the auld dumdiebickies' advice, "Plant trees, plant trees, Joe, they're aye growin' while you're asleep."

Of all the peoples that ever lived we are the champion Exams. In less than a hundred years recklessness has exhausted and wasted raw materials meant to serve far-sighted folk till eternity.

Accuse not nature. She hath done her part. Do thou but time."

A Parable From Panama Bay

Destitution travels in small packages nowadays. Victory is not for the strongest, but the most alert. The sham battle in Panama Bay carries more than one parable.

Dreadnoughts can't cope with smoke-screened destroyers. The tremendous force of modern explosives enables light and comparatively inexpensive craft to play ducks and drakes with floating citadels. Naval warfare will hereafter be decided by sea infantry.

All the lumbering beasts are at the mercy of fleet little enemies.

So, too, elephantine vessels must succumb to the little fleets of the enemy.

The News Is Mightier Than the Pyramids

Man and his works have immemorially succumbed to obscure and tiny causes. Disease craters, patiently fretting winds and tides, rusts and decays, are the final conquerors. The tremendous force of modern explosives enables light and comparatively inexpensive craft to play ducks and drakes with floating citadels. Naval warfare will hereafter be decided by sea infantry.

All the lumbering beasts are at the mercy of fleet little enemies.

So, too, elephantine vessels must succumb to the little fleets of the enemy.

Several Abiding Miracles

Lord Carnarvon is prostrated by a bug bite. Wireless carries the news to London in an eye-wink, his wife orders a Handley Page from an aeroplane stable, summons a Harley street physician and undertakes to fly from the Thames to the Nile in three days.

Miracles beyond the tallest imagination of Biblical scribbles. Elijah's chariot ride is still a three-thousand-year wonder—the dash to Luxor will be forgotten next week.

So will the statement of the Adirondack Power & Light Company, which shows record-breaking earnings for January, February and March and a gross and net income for past twelve months increased by 31 and 34 per cent., respectively. Very interesting figures when compared with service charges. Public indifference to living costs and dividend rates is another abiding miracle.
